APS Saves $29 Million for Additional Projects

Thanks to careful financial management and a competitive construction market, Aurora Public Schools' bond program is under budget by millions of dollars.

As a result, the APS Long Range Facilities Advisory Committee—comprised of APS staff, community members and local government representatives—met last spring to review and prioritize facility needs. Based on the LRFAC recommendations, the APS Board of Education recently approved $29 million from the bond savings for additional construction and technology projects.

Planning and design for many of the new projects will begin this fall, with construction scheduled in 2013 and 2014. All construction projects will be completed by August 2014.

The $215 million bond program, approved by Aurora voters in 2008, is funding improvements at every APS school. To view a full list of the additional bond projects, visit aurorak12.org/bond.
