

Aurora Public Schools

Board Members Take Oath of Office

Three APS Board of Education members took the oath of office on Nov. 8. Board member Mary Lewis is beginning her second term. Cathy Wildman and Dan Jorgensen are beginning their first terms.

Mary Lewis

Lewis is an active community volunteer and homemaker. Her two children are APS graduates. She has lived in Aurora for 30 years.

Cathy Wildman

Wildman is a retired APS teacher with more than 40 years of service to students. She has lived in Aurora for 26 years.

Dan Jorgensen

Jorgensen is an Evaluation and Research Coordinator. He has two children who attend APS schools. He has lived in Aurora for seven years.

Thank you to outgoing board members Amy Prince and Peter Cukale for their four years of service and dedication.

American Education Week: Nov. 13 – 19

Aurora Public Schools joins districts across the nation to celebrate American Education Week, Nov. 13-19. This year's focus, "Great Public Schools: A Basic Right and Our Responsibility," reflects the need to provide students with quality public schools so that they can grow, prosper and achieve in the 21st century.

Please take the time to emphasize the importance of education to your family and friends and acknowledge teachers, parents and community members for their commitment to educating Aurora's children.

American Education Week is sponsored by the National Education Association and is celebrated the first full week before Thanksgiving.
