APS Celebrates New Schools

Aurora Public Schools recently celebrated the opening of two new bond-funded schools, the Meadowood Child Development Center and Vista PEAK Preparatory 9-12.

The Meadowood Child Development Center is the third preschool center in the district and serves more than 300 children. The center offers a solid educational foundation for 3-5-year-olds.

Vista PEAK Preparatory, located on the APS P-20 campus, serves high school students. The Vista PEAK campus uses a P-20 educational model focused on providing students 21st century learning from preschool through postsecondary coursework.
